The Section 106 Essentials

This two-day course is designed for those who are new to federal historic preservation compliance or those who want a refresher on the Section 106 regulations. Through small and large group discussions and a case study, participants learn how to carry out or participate in the four-step process through which federal agencies fulfill their project planning review requirements under the National Historic Preservation Act, which apply any time a federal, federally assisted, or federally approved activity might affect a historic property.

One of the most informative trainings I have attended in my 20 plus year career.

– Federal agency environmental staffer

March 11-12	Washington, DC – National Building Museum
May 20-21	Salt Lake City, UT- Radisson Salt Lake City Downtown
June 10-11	Washington, DC – National Building Museum

September 9-10	Washington, DC – National Building Museum
September 16-17	Oakland, CA – Washington Inn
November 11-12	Savannah, GA - NTHP Annual Conference

Advanced Section 106 Seminar

The seminar focuses on the effective management of complex or controversial undertakings that require compliance with Section 106 of the National Historic Preservation Act. Taught in a smaller, interactive setting, the course encourages group discussion and problem solving. Designed for experienced Section 106 users who are familiar with the regulations, the curriculum focuses on the challenges of seeking consensus, resolving adverse effects to historic properties, and preparing agreement documents. Class is limited to 25 participants.

March 13	Washington, DC – National Building Museum
April 8	Atlanta, GA – Fairfield Inn
May 22	Salt Lake City, UT- Radisson Salt Lake City Downtown
July 22	Washington, DC – National Building Museum
